

Amazing polymers

Lower 5 have been studying organic chemistry. They have looked at the compounds that are obtained from crude oil and how these are used as fuels such as petrol. Other organic compounds can also be made. Some of these are used to make different types of polymers. Examples include polythene bags, milk bottles, nylon, polyether fabrics and PET bottles. This picture shows nylon been made in the laboratory, a very simple reaction between two molecules.

Mrs Lesley Wood