

Comic Relief activities

Comic Relief day was on Friday 17th March and the Sixth Form and I designed a fun packed day.

During the morning, the Prep & Early Years gathered together to enjoy an amazing fancy dress parade led by some of the Lower 6 pupils. Later that day they came together to enjoy a joke competition followed by a bake sale.

In High School, we began the morning with an assembly to remind us all about the beginnings of Comic Relief and the support this charity delivers to people in the UK as well as across the world. As part of the assembly, the history of the red noses was shared, many of which, only the staff were familiar with. The video showed the evolution of the red nose and it has certainly taken on different forms over the years. In this assembly, the winning joke was announced, and the overall winners were Lower 4S. They will get to design the school lunch for a day with Wayne.

At lunch time High School enjoyed an obstacle course, kindly set up by Captain Davies and Mr Dixon. Each year group had representatives from each house, but it has to be said the loudest cheers were when the staff were competing against each other. Watching, Little Miss Princess compete against Little Miss Whoops was highly entertaining! Despite Harewood doing particularly well with the archery event, Beningbrough just gained a few more points to win the overall event.

A big thank you goes to the Gateways community, the staff and the prefect team for supporting this event and the grand total raised was £1,104.
