

Photography – ageing and decay

Upper 6 pupil Pooja has been focussing on the inside and outside of natural and man-made structures. In school she has been letting fruit and vegetables rot and photographing the process of natural decay to take these beautiful and highly detailed images of the mould which she has edited further using photoshop.

She then visited a derelict building site in Adel, with permission of the owner, to photograph the interior and exterior of the crumbling architecture, focussing on the defacing graffiti, broken windows, moulding surfaces and peeling paint to show the damage that ageing can have.
