

Reception perform 'The Gingerbread Man'

This week Reception have become budding actors and actresses. After observing lots of fabulous creative and imaginative play we thought it would be nice to put on our own Reception performance. The children were able to make a vote as to which book they would like to focus on. The Gingerbread Man was a clear winner. Over the last few weeks we have explored the story in depth, looking at characters, setting and story sequence. The children were given the chance to decide which character they would like to play and over the last few days practised their lines. Excitement and enthusiasm filled the air on Thursday as the children acted out the story. We finished of the week with the children watched their acting debut on the big screen and a little gingerbread treat.
