

Upper 1 learn colours in the sun

In Spanish, Upper 1 have made such great progress that we have time to revise some of our key topics before the term ends. Today, the pupils sang a Spanish song on colours before completing some suitably colourful activities, including colouring-in cakes, a wordsearch, and some translation—all against the backdrop of sunny Harewood, which could easily have been mistaken for the rolling hills of Cantabria!

In the picture, the pupils are completing the written activity near the end of the lesson.

Dr Oliver Neto