

Upper 1 musicians show their notation prowess

In our music lesson this week, both Upper 1 music classes showed how well they remember their note values, as we recapped our Rhythm Café note names. I was very impressed with how neatly they all tried to write their notes and I saw some very significant improvement.

We then listened to some rhythms on the drum, and they were able to notate what they had heard with confidence. Not everybody got it right, but I was so pleased that everyone tried their best and didn't give up when they found it a challenge.

We then composed a two-bar melody on the glockenspiels, making sure that we had eight beats in total. I really enjoyed the performances that the children gave, and it was great to see them be so proud of their accomplishments.

Well done, Upper 1!
