

A wonderful first week in Transition!

Well, what a busy, fun and tiring first week we have had here in Transition (is it half term yet?!). The children have settled in incredibly well to life in Transition and have welcomed a new friend with open arms!

The children have crammed so much learning into the last week. They have confidently participated with our science and humanities lessons (where we're learning about the human body and Grace Darling) and have loved reading about the Bog Baby in English – we even made Bog Babies of our own!

In mathematics, we are re-capping counting skills and the children have enjoyed sorting different items from around the classroom.

We are so proud of how well the children have done this week and are really excited to see them learn and grow over the course of the year.
