

Lower 4 geographers pop-up expedition

Building on our recent coastal fieldwork expedition to Flamborough Head, our pupils have delved deeper into coastal erosion and its landforms. Over the past week, they've learned about geographical features like arches, stacks, stumps, wave cut notches, and wave cut platforms. To bring this learning to life and engage different learning styles, pupils created coastal pop-up displays, which you can see above.

These hands-on activities showcase creativity and dedication while offering a meaningful way to explore geography.
