

Ice baubles

This week, the Reception children have embraced the cold weather and it has sparked lots of conversations around snow and ice. We thought it would be a perfect opportunity to complete an ice experiment with an artistic twist. We gathered some natural materials and put them in a cup with some water and added a sprinkle of glitter. After much discussion, the children agreed leaving them outside overnight would be the best chance of them freezing! Everyone was eager to see the results and wanted to place their ice baubles on the tree outside for everyone to see.
