British Science Week is a ten-day celebration of science, technology, engineering and maths that will place between 8 - 17 March 2024!

The Science Department are currently planning activities for an exciting science week in March. We are looking forward to welcoming visiting speakers to share their experience and knowledge of working in STEM related fields.

If any parents, Old Gatewegians or contacts could give up some of their time we would very much like to hear from you. Please contact : kim.ashurst@gatewaysschool.co.uk. We look forward to an action packed week.
