

Electrifying discoveries in Upper 2

We're thrilled to share the buzz from the Upper 2 classroom, where the pupils have been hard at work testing a variety of materials to understand how well they conduct electricity. We linked this with helping us choose the right materials for the right jobs.

The pupils then discussed how this may affect the development of future technologies to ensure products are as efficient and reliable as possible.

Mr Mike Arnold and Mr Matt Chandler