

Insulators and conductors

This week, in science, Lower 2 pupils have been continuing their electricity experiments.

Pupils investigated different objects in the classroom to see if they completed their electrical circuit. This was a fantastic opportunity to apply their scientific knowledge in a practical way. By the end they could identify which objects would conduct electricity without the need to test.

Mr Charlie Grasby and Miss Kirk