

Upper 3 Spanish talk about their school

¿Qué haces durante el recreo?

That was the question that Upper 3 were practising asking and answering last week. Upper 3 have just completed the topic of schools and with the end of year assessments not too far away, they went around the room asking various members of the class (and me) what they do during their break, to help them prepare for the upcoming assessments. Their pronunciation was excellent which is great news for the speaking test and as they moved round the room, they became more confident and their fluency improved. Their break times were also much more interesting than mine! Well done Upper 3!
