

Adiós to Upper 5 Spanish

This week we have had to say “adiós” to Upper 5 as they start their exams. I continued the tradition I started a few years ago and made personalised certificates for all Upper 5 Spanish pupils, recognising their individual talents and contributions, with some humour thrown in. I read out the comments so they had to guess who it was. They clearly all knew each other very well and mainly guessed correctly. I am very proud of them, especially having shown great resilience in the face of the GCSE speaking test ( do you remember yours?!). I wish them all the best for their exams- ¡ Buena suerte!
