

But which poems are these...?

We are into the swing of public examinations now and our Year 11 pupils have already answered on Macbeth and A Christmas Carol. The longest GCSE paper is left: Literature paper two. It comes in at a whopping two hours and fifteen minutes and the candidates will be writing about An Inspector Calls as well as a plethora of poems.

And on that subject, can any GCSE pupils identify the poems from the picture clues above?

Best of luck to you all and remember to enjoy the unseen poetry – just write!
