

Revision techniques for the speaking examination

The speaking examination can often be nerve-wracking for the pupils, but we spent some time in lessons discussing the best ways to revise and prepare for the upcoming assessment. As usual, the pupils came up with some brilliant and useful suggestions as to how to prepare for the speaking examination. Learning key phrases was a common suggestion, along with practising saying your answers aloud, using prompts to help you remember the answer, learning question words and in some cases make your answers into a song to help you remember the words.

Above we have Emily and Isobel testing one another with their answers and India using prompt cards to help her with her answers.
