

Upper 6 sociologists visit Harrogate Justice Centre

Our Upper6 sociologists enjoyed a visit to the Harrogate Justice Centre last half term. We are studying 'Crime and Deviance' this year and the visit provided us with an excellent insight into this sector of the criminal justice system. We were welcomed by a member of staff who gave us a tour and took questions from the students. We then were allowed to sit in the public gallery of one of the courts for the afternoon and observe two cases. One was related to theft and failure to meet parole conditions, and one was related to a breached injunction. It was fascinating to see how the proceedings worked. We left with a lot to think about and a greater understanding of the criminal justice system which will support their A Level work.
