

Lower 4 enjoying their Surface Pros

I have been delighted with the way in which my hard working Lower 4 pupils are making excellent use of their Surface Pros. Whilst we are still reading aloud in class, writing in exercise books and completing traditional assessments, the pupils enjoy accessing documents straight to their devices where they can save them for revision purposes. Typing in Word means that grids can automatically adjust to allow pupils to add to their original ideas, meaning the agony of squishing words into a confined space is relegated to the past! One pupil has commented that it has brought him new confidence in English because he always has his materials to hand. The one small fly in the ointment is that I am having to stay one step ahead with my own IT skills!
