

Lower 2 create stories

The children have been loving our class text in English. 'The Boy at the Back of the Class' by Onjali Q Rauf. With many thought-provoking topics, this book has provided countless opportunities for class discussions about loss, friendship and the refugee crisis. Lower 2 have shown such maturity and understanding when discussing these topics with their peers.

This week, we have been completing our termly assessed piece of writing. The children have created their own bus passenger and invented an adventure that they go on. Using ideas from our book, where the narrator imagines the life stories of passers by and passengers whilst they are on the bus, Lower 2 have created the most amazing imaginative ideas. I am so excited to see what they come up with next! Happy writing!
