

London trip preparation - Ordnance Survey maps

This week Lower 3 have been testing their map skills on Ordnance Survey maps of London. Working together, they used their knowledge of map symbols, compass points and scale to answer a series of questions about the places we will be visiting on our residential trip.

It was great to see the children's problem-solving and teamwork skills put to the test as they cooperated to put their knowledge to practical use, navigating the capital on paper before they have a chance to do it for real.
