

The Sixth Form quiz heats up!

The Sixth Form students are thoroughly enjoying their weekly form time quiz, with competition reaching new heights!

Each week, forms battle it out to claim the top score, and with scores steadily rising, every point is crucial. Covering a wide range of topics, including politics, Formula One, capital cities, general knowledge, and current affairs, the quiz has become a highlight of the week. Recent results suggest students are becoming more informed and engaged, sparking fantastic discussions during form time. This was clear from the student versus staff quiz that took place for Red Nose Day, the Sixth form team should have been exceptionally proud of their achievements; their knowledge of politics was particularly impressive which has definitely been helped by their weekly quiz.

The race for the highest-scoring form remains fierce, not only is the quiz a fun and competitive challenge, but it is also proving to be a great way to improve awareness of world events.

Who will be crowned the ultimate quiz champions?

Form 6N also have the additional support from our school dog Cherry, as seen in the photo above, who I am sure is providing some moral support and luck to the success of my form.
