

Upper 4 geographers complete UN Summit

Upper 4 have been studying the contemporary topic of the geography of health. Having already covered the geographical spread and impacts of Covid-19, this week, pupils turned their attention to the responses made by different governments to the pandemic.

Our lesson quickly turned into a UN Summit with different groups representing varied approaches taken. From the fast closed borders response of New Zealand to Sweden's minimal lockdown and Brazil's non-wearing of face masks, pupils had to summarise their country's approach as well as the lessons learned from the pandemic.

As such, they had to evaluate their chosen response and consider whether, should a further pandemic occur, a similar approach should be adopted.

There were some lovely responses from the class with clear engagement throughout. In addition, it provided the opportunity to practise the art of public speaking in a warm and supportive environment.
